TALKS ABOUT
HYDRAULIC MININGDISTRICT ATTORNEY MCCARRAN
ON INDUSTRY AT ROUND MOUNTAIN.

P. A. McCarran, district attorney of Nye county and the highest salaried officer in the state of Nevada, state, county or municipal, is registered at the Golden with his wife.

Mr. McCarran and wife are just returning from a visit to Clover Valley, Elko county, where Mrs. McCarran's parents reside.

"The most interesting news from Nye county," said Mr. McCarran in an interview with a reporter for the Reno State Journal last evening, "is the introduction of hydraulic mining in the vicinity of Round Mountain.

"The mining regions of Nevada are so extremely arid that hydraulic mining has hitherto been looked upon as a joke when the term was used with reference to local mining.

"Of course, it was hydraulic mining in Gold Canyon, just above Dayton, in the early '50s that led to the discovery of the mines of Johnstown, Silver City, Gold Hill and Virginia City, but since the early '60s there has been nothing of that sort in that particular section.

"I understand also, that there is some hydraulic mining on Cedar Hill near Virginia City, but not on a large scale.

"But this Round Mountain project is a big thing. The company prosecuting it is called the Hydraulic Mining company, and they received seven carloads of pipe a few days ago.

"The main pipe is already laid. It is a 16-inch pipe, and is now throwing water on the company's grounds. The new pipe is 12-inch pipe, and will be used to carry water from different points in Jefferson canyon to the main pipe, which is called the Shoshone pipe.

"There is already on the ground an 8-inch pipe to convey water from Indian ranch to the Shoshone line.

"Two reservoirs are being built and the pipe line will have water throughout the year.

"The three pipes discharging into the main line, will afford a great volume. The main line, sixteen inches in size at its intake, will diminish to two at the nozzle, thus throwing its delivery with tremendous force against the ground of the hydraulic company.

"As an indication of the richness of the ground of the hydraulic company the following serves as a fair example:

"When the water was first turned on it was allowed to run out on the ground and find, in many instances, a natural course to the mouth of the sluice boxes, thus cutting its own channels to act as flumes! The sub soil thus cut out was washed into the sluices. A clean-up of one of these deposits returned 165 ounces of gold or over $2000. This result was accomplished without power or pressure, simply by the natural flow of the water."

UBEHEBE'S GREAT
COPPER SHOWING

Fred Cox, the mining engineer, who, with Russ Sutherland, has just returned from a trip to the Ubehebe district, is greatly impressed with the mineral showing of the new camp. He says:

"I will not say that it is the biggest copper showing I have ever seen, but I will say that it is one of the biggest. Judged from the surface the Ubehebe is certainly the making of many producing mines. The veins are strong and well defined. The copper values run high. In addition to the copper, much of the ore also contains a good per cent of gold and silver.

"Of course you understand that the district remains to be proven, and it is nonsense for anyone to say that it cannot escape enormous production. While the surface leads to the conclusion that immense ore bodies will be uncovered, it will take development to prove this. But the showing is great, and as I said, among the best I have ever seen."

"The thing which the district most needs is transportation facilities, and I believe the building of a railroad from Bonnie Claire is entirely warranted in the premises."

Robert Lockhart, accompanied by Mrs. Lockhart, came back this week from a trip of a few weeks in the Ubehebe district. He says that Bert Shively has made a rich strike on the Lakeview group. He has an uncovering of four feet, which runs high in copper. No assays have been made of the ore, but to all appearances Mr. Lockhart says that it carries exceptionally high values.

The Lost Burros, he says, are also looking well. The entire camp is good, and a great deal of assessment and development work is being done.—Bullfrog Miner.
